The "Messless Charger" is a universal charging station designed to charge pretty much any kind of electronic device, including MP3 players, phones, handheld consoles, PDAs and digital cameras.

Offering a more aesthetically pleasing alternative to a bundle of wires and plastics bricks sprawling across your office or home, the Messless offers four docking stations for concurrent charging.

The charger comes with six interchangeable connectors that are compatible with Nokia phones, Sony Ericsson handsets, iPods, PSPs and mini USB connectors, among others, but it might be worth checking your gadgets are covered before splashing out on the £69.95 asking price.
